

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

It cannot be called a service to its community when a radio station deceives listeners by broadcasting a heavily slanted (and in many areas blatantly false) political message disguised as a NEWS PROGRAM. This is totally inappropriate and gives at least the appearance of the FCC's cooperation in a scheme that benefits Mr. Powell's political party.
